

Exploring Farming Styles: Theory, Methods, Sources

Ernst Langthaler

1 / 8

Institute of Rural History

Step 1: From the ,rational farmer‘ to the ,farmer‘-,peasant‘-dichotomy

,(rational) farmer‘:

- profit-maximising
- market-oriented
- machinery
- etc.

,peasant‘:

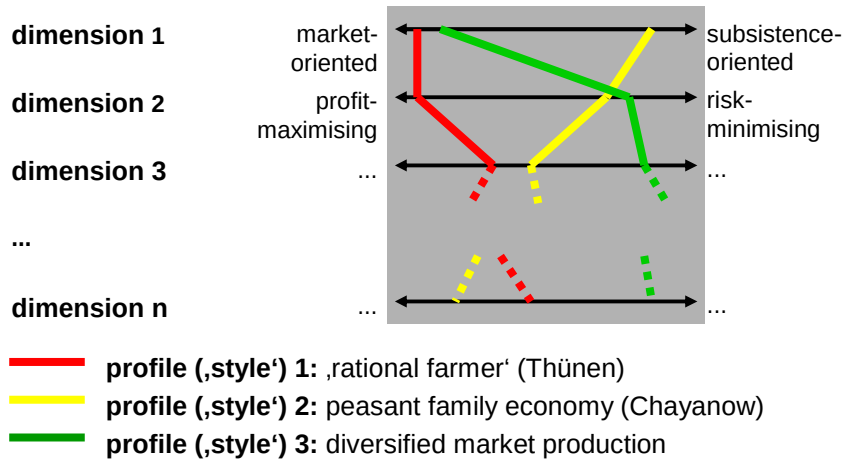

- risk-minimising
- subsistence-oriented
- manual work
- etc.

simplified ideal types versus complexity of real life

2 / 8

Institute of Rural History

Step 2: From the 'farmer'-'peasant'-dichotomy to multiple dimensions

3 / 8

Institute of Rural History

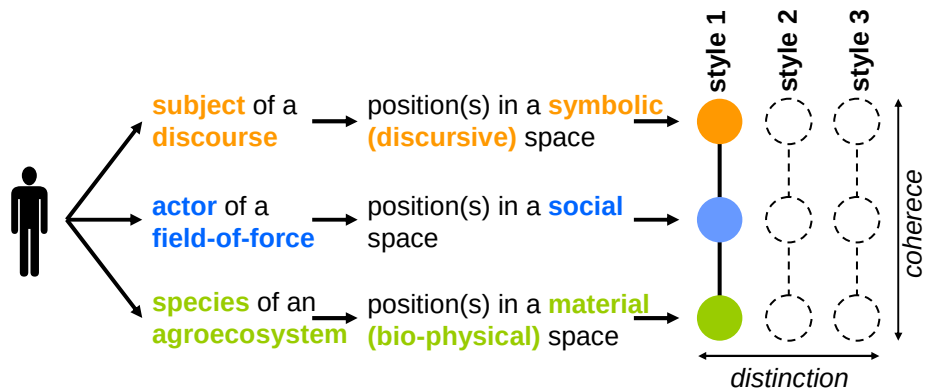

Step 3: From multiple dimensions to a multi-dimensional space

4 / 8

Institute of Rural History

Step 4: From a multi-dimensional space to farming styles theory

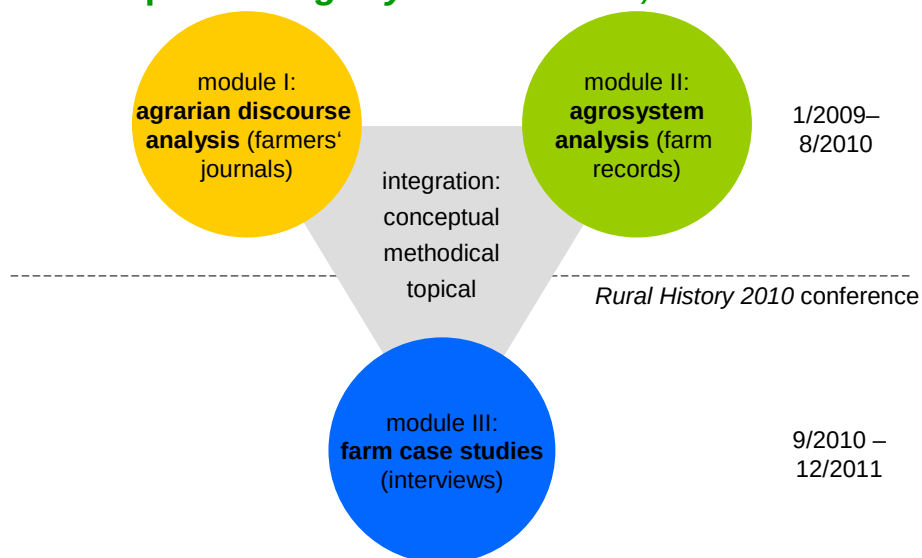

- interconnections of the material, social and symbolic world
- actor-network theory (Bruno Latour)
- farming styles (Jan Douwe van der Ploeg)

5 / 8

Institute of Rural History

Step 5: From farming styles theory to the research concept Farming Styles in Austria, 1945-1980s

6 / 8

Institute of Rural History

